

Charlotte Lassetter

Charlotte started riding before she can remember. She took part in many Pony Club activities and was keen on showing working hunter ponies.

However, her real interest in dressage started at the age of 16 and during her career she has been lucky enough to train with the likes of Jane Goldsmith, Danny Persner, Chief rider Reigler of the Spanish Riding School and the late Tony Crossley and Nuno Olivtira.

She started training with John Lassetter in the early 1980s. During which time she worked for about 14 months in the USA.

Since being based at Goodwood, she has trained and competed many different horses up to Grand Prix. Her main success were with Excellence with many international placings. While at the 2000 squad she trained with Henk van Bergen and Conrad Schmacher.

Over the years she has trained many young riders to International including Sonia Webster, Cassy Clague-Redding.

Charlotte is currently riding and preparing for competition Flick Greene's Don Schvifro gelding, Dali, Pferd 24s Disco Lady by Discotanzer and Vilnius Star by Weltmeyr.
